VIRTUAL ASSISTANT Q&A

Thinking of becoming a Virtual Assistant? Wondering if you have the skillset, creativity and temperament to make it work? Want your specific concerns addressed by an expert who will candidly share both the ups and downs of what is an amazing industry and who can answer questions about your potential place in it? This call is for you!

PITCH PREP

You've identified a potential client to whom you'd like to pitch your services, but you're just not sure of the best way to approach them. Learning how to prepare for a pitch can give you an advantage over your nerves. Schedule an affordable 45-60 minute session with AskChela to talk through the process to improve your chances of making a solid impression that lands you a discovery call.

DISCOVERY CALL PREP

Success! You've made it past the pitch, and the prospective client is ready to discuss the details of their specific needs and how you might be able to assist them. Nervous at the very thought? In a single session, let's dive in and get very specific about how to conduct the discovery call in a way that improves your chances of signing the client.

VIRTUAL ASSISTANT CLARITY CALL

Not having the success you'd hoped for? Unsure of how to go about identifying/driving business strategies to determine what services to offer...and when? Wondering if you should continue down this entrepreneurial path at all? As time allows in this 60-minute session, let's dig a little into your business: your services, client attraction strategies, short and long-term goals, et cetera.
